Guide For Satellite Patients The Midwest Center for Reproductive Health, P.A.

Thank you for choosing The Midwest Center for Reproductive Health, P.A. (MCRH). Please accept our warmest welcome to you from the staff at MCRH, as well as our thanks for your interest in the services we provide. We understand the struggles that you face and truly strive to provide the finest care possible in a compassionate and professional environment. It is our hope that we will lay the foundation for success with our individualized treatment based on the unique needs of each patient. We ask that you use this information as a guide in order to familiarize you with MCRH and prepare yourself for what to expect before, during, and beyond your first appointment.

Before Your Appointment:

To ensure your new patient appointment is most beneficial to you, we begin by asking that the following forms be thoughtfully completed and received in our satellite office one week before your appointment. Please feel free to return your completed forms by mail or by faxing it to your appropriate satellite office. If you choose to fax your completed forms, please bring the original copy to your scheduled appointment. If you have a copy of your medical records, you may include a copy with the following forms:

- _____ Patient Registration Form and Consent for Treatment – Carefully read and complete both pages of this form. Since this serves as a consent for services, completion of this form is required before your appointment. Be sure to have both patient and spouse or partner (if applicable) initial, sign, and date.
- _____ History Forms (both female and spouse/partner) – Each of you should individually complete the appropriate form to the best of your knowledge. Please indicate “not applicable” when this is the case. Completion of these forms allows the staff at MCRH to better understand your individual situation and provide a more individualized discussion during your consultation.
- _____ Medical Records – It is most beneficial if medical records from current and/or previous infertility treatment are received at our satellite office before your consultation. In order to expedite the transfer of your previous medical records, enclosed is an “Authorization for Release of Medical Information” form for you to return directly to your physician. If you and/or your partner have more than one physician that you have been working with, please feel free to duplicate or to ask MCRH for additional copies of this form. Any medical records released from other facilities will have pertinent information extracted and will be returned to you at the time of your new patient consultation. This will also enable you to have your own copy to reference in the future.
- _____ Preparing for Pregnancy – Please read this guide for information to best optimize your chances for successful treatment.

You should also expect a telephone call from one of the MCRH nursing staff before your appointment. The nurse will confirm your appointment, the receipt of your new patient paperwork and your medical records, and will ask any questions regarding your medical history. This phone conversation will help further to clarify your individual situation and any specific topics you wish to discuss during your initial consultation.

What to Expect at Your New Patient Appointment:

Your initial appointment is scheduled as a consultation. In order to give you both the opportunity to meet Dr. Corfman and other members of the MCRH team, we strongly recommend both you and your spouse or partner attend the new patient consultation. During this appointment you will have the opportunity to have a dialogue between you and Dr. Corfman, review any previous treatments, and discuss options for further treatment. Generally, this appointment is approximately 30 minutes in length however, please keep in mind that your appointment may be longer or shorter depending on your unique requirements. It is with sensitivity to all patients and with regards to the particular nature of our practice, we ask that children do not accompany you to your appointment.

You will receive a follow up call from our program coordinator regarding the treatment plan that has been outlined for you.

Office Location:

Our main office is located in Maple Grove, MN. Please see the Practice Locations page on our website. If you have any questions regarding directions, please call MCRH at (800) 508-9763.

Cancellation Policy:

A fee will apply for appointments not cancelled at least 72 hours in advance. While we regret the need to do this, this policy allows us to better serve all of our patients who may be waiting for an appointment time.

Billing and Insurance Policies and Questions:

Understanding your medical insurance coverage and your benefits for infertility treatment can be confusing and time consuming. Our Business Office staff is available to answer questions as they arise. However, because plans vary greatly, it is probably best to start by contacting your insurance company directly. Please see the Insurance and Financial Information page on our website.

The fee for a new patient consultation is generally $370, although this can vary depending on the amount of time spent, the complexity of your medical history, and your options for treatment. This appointment may or may not be covered by insurance and includes chart preparation, extraction of your previous medical records, medical records review with a member of the nursing staff before your appointment, and your physician consultation.

MCRH participates with a number of insurance plans, however, coverage varies. We ask that you contact your insurance company prior to your appointment. If we do not participate directly with your insurance, there may be "out of network" benefits allowing you to see Dr. Corfman.

If you have questions or concerns regarding fees or insurance coverage, please contact the Business Office by calling (763) 494-7736. Many times all it takes is a phone call to ease your insurance concerns and answer your questions.

We look forward to meeting you at your new patient consultation. Please do not hesitate to call with further questions.

Preparing for Pregnancy

While conception is as easy as "falling off a log" for some people, it is not so easy for many of us. We all know couples who are unhealthy and choose unhealthy lifestyles, yet seem to have no trouble becoming pregnant.

Two of the most important lifestyle factors negatively impacting pregnancy and chances of becoming pregnant are smoking and obesity. The medical literature is full of information which shows smoking (yes, even use of chewing tobacco) and being overweight significantly decreases chances to conceive. Furthermore, both smoking and being overweight have very serious negative effects upon you and your unborn baby, and on your baby's health after birth.

Just as the pilot of an airplane meticulously prepares and performs preflight planning, so, too, should you prepare to become pregnant. When you ask our team at The Midwest Center for Reproductive Health to help you launch and "get this baby off the ground," we recognize that you are also committing to do what is necessary to optimize chances for success. We take your commitment very seriously, just as we take seriously our commitment to help you achieve a pregnancy and a healthy baby.

For those of you who are significantly overweight, we want you to know that we do not wish to begin infertility treatment until you are in a position to be successful. What defines being "significantly overweight"? The National Institutes of Health has adopted a measurement which correlates height and weight with health risks, termed the body mass index (BMI). Studies have shown a body mass index between 19 and 25 to be in a healthy range, whereas a BMI of 30 or greater to be associated with significant health risks. To determine your BMI please go to www.bmi-calculator.net or consult with your local health care provider.

Should your BMI be above 30, it is important for you to know that many studies have shown significant negative impacts upon your chances to conceive, greatly increased chances of complications during your pregnancy and increased chances for health problems in your baby. With this in mind, we discourage initiation of infertility treatment until your BMI is 30 or under.

Having a BMI over 30 is not only a problem for women trying to conceive, but also for men. Sperm function is significantly compromised with elevated BMI.

Should your BMI be 35 or greater, we ask that you seek care with your local health care provider and establish a plan for reducing your BMI before you schedule an appointment with Dr. Corfman.

Should you be users of tobacco products, it is important for you to be tobacco and smoke-free before you initiate infertility treatment. When you do your part to prepare for pregnancy, you put yourself in an excellent position to be a parent of a healthy baby. We know that is your goal, and we will be there to help you when you're ready.

The Midwest Center for Reproductive Health, P.A. Notice of Privacy Practices

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

The Midwest Center for Reproductive Health, P.A., including its subsidiary Great Planes Reproductive Centers, P.A., is required by law to maintain the privacy of protected health information ("PHI") and to provide you with notice of its legal duties and privacy practices with respect to PHI. PHI is information that may identify you and that relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition and related health care services. This Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice") will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose your PHI for treatment, payment or health care operations and for other specified purposes that are permitted or required by law. The Notice also describes your rights with respect to your PHI. We are required to provide this notice to you by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act ("HIPAA").

We are required to follow the terms of this Notice. We will not use or disclose your PHI without your written authorization, except as described or otherwise permitted by this Notice. We reserve the right to change our practices and this Notice and to make the new Notice effective for all PHI we maintain. Upon request, we will provide any revised Notice to you, at the time of your appointment, in the mail or you may review the revised Notice, which will be posted in our office.

How We Use and Disclose Protected Health Information About You

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose your protected health information. We have provided you with examples in certain categories; however, not every use or disclosure that is in a category and permitted by law will be listed.

Treatment. We may use and disclose your PHI to provide and coordinate the treatment and services you receive. For example, we will disclose your information as necessary to a health care practitioner or agency that provides care to you. We may contact you about treatment recommendations or product recalls.

Payment. We may use and disclose your PHI for various payment-related functions. For example, we may contact your insurer or other health care payor to determine whether it will pay for your treatment and the amount of your co-payment. We will bill you or a third-party payor for the cost of the services you receive. The information on or accompanying the bill may include information that identifies you, as well as your diagnosis and the specific services you received.

Health care operations. We may use and disclose your PHI for certain operational, administrative and quality assurance activities. For example, we may use information in your health record to monitor the performance of staff members providing treatment to you. This information will be used in an effort to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of the health care services we provide. We may disclose by calling your name in the clinic area or by asking you to use a sign in sheet at the registration desk. We may disclose health information to business associates if they need to receive this information to provide a service to us and will agree to safeguard protected health information.

Health-related benefits and services. We may also use your PHI to provide you with information about benefits available to you, and, in limited situations, about health-related products or services that may be of interest to you.

Appointment reminders. We may use and disclose PHI to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment with us for services.

Others involved in your care. We may also disclose to certain family members, personal friends or any other person you identify, PHI directly relevant to that person's involvement in your care or payment related to your care in order to not hinder that person's involvement. We may release information to parents or guardians, if allowed by law.

Potential Impact of Laws Other than HIPAA

HIPAA privacy regulations generally do not "preempt" (or take precedence over) state or federal laws that provide individuals greater privacy protections. For example, state law requires us to obtain your written consent before making some of the disclosures described above. We will follow more stringent state and federal privacy laws where they apply.

Other Uses and Disclosures

We are permitted to use or disclose your PHI for the following purposes, but we may never have reason to make some of these disclosures.

Worker's compensation. We may disclose your PHI as required to comply with laws relating to worker's compensation and similar programs established by law.

Public health. As required by law, we may disclose your PHI to public health or legal authorities charged with preventing or controlling disease, injury or disability. Public health disclosures include cycle-specific data we report to the Society for Assisted Reproductive Technology.

Law enforcement. We may disclose your PHI for law enforcement purposes as required by law or in response to a subpoena or court order.

As required by law. We will disclose your PHI when required to do so by federal, state or local law.

Health oversight activities. We may disclose your PHI to an oversight agency for activities authorized by law, such as audits, investigations, inspections, as necessary for licensure and for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs and compliance with civil rights laws.

Legal proceedings. If you are involved in a lawsuit or dispute, we may disclose PHI about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose your PHI in response to a subpoena, discovery request or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the requested information.

Research. We may disclose your PHI to researchers when their research has been approved by an institutional review board or privacy board that has reviewed the research proposal and established protocols to ensure the privacy of your information.

Coroners, medical examiners, funeral directors and organ donations. We may release your PHI to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death. We may also disclose PHI to funeral directors to enable them to carry out their duties and to organ organizations that handle organ and tissue donation or transplant.

Correctional institution. If you are or become an inmate of a correctional institution, we may disclose to the institution or its agents PHI necessary for your health and the health and safety of other individuals.

To avert a serious health or safety threat. We may use and disclose your PHI when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person.

Military activity and national security, protective services. If you are a member of the armed forces, we may release PHI about you as required by military command authorities. We may also release PHI about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority. We also may disclose your PHI to authorized federal officials for conducting national security and intelligence activities and for the protection of the President, other authorized persons or heads of state.

Victims of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We may disclose PHI about you to a government authority if we reasonably believe you are a victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will disclose this type of information if it is required by law or the disclosure is allowed by law and we believe it is necessary to prevent serious harm to you or someone else.

Disclosures to the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. We are required to disclose your PHI to the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services when the Secretary is investigating or determining our compliance with the HIPAA privacy regulations.

Other uses and disclosures of PHI. We will obtain your written authorization before using or disclosing your PHI for purposes other than those provided for above (or as otherwise permitted or required by law). You may revoke an authorization in writing at any time. Upon receipt of the written revocation, we will stop using or disclosing your PHI, except to the extent that we have already taken action in reliance on the authorization.

Your Health Information Rights

Obtain a paper copy of the Notice on request. You may ask for a copy of our current Notice at any time. Even if you agreed to receive the Notice electronically, you are still entitled to a paper copy.

Inspect and obtain a copy of PHI. You have the right to access and copy most of the PHI that we maintain about you. To inspect or copy your PHI, you must give us a written request. We may deny your request to inspect and copy in certain limited circumstances. If we deny your request, we will notify you of the denial in writing and will explain the basis for our denial. You may ask that the denial be reviewed.

Request a restriction on certain uses and disclosures of PHI. You have the right to request additional restrictions on our use or disclosure of your PHI by giving us a written request describing the restriction you seek and to whom it applies. We are not required to agree to those restrictions and cannot agree to restrictions on uses or disclosures that are legally required or which are necessary to administer our business. If we do agree to the restriction, we will comply with the restriction unless the information is needed to provide emergency treatment to you.

Request communications of PHI by alternative means or at alternative locations. You may ask us to contact you at a different residence or post office box. To request confidential communication of your PHI, you must give us a written request telling us how or where you would like to be contacted. We will accommodate all reasonable requests. As permitted by HIPAA, "reasonableness" will (and is permitted to) include, when appropriate, making alternate arrangements regarding payment.

Request an amendment of PHI. If you believe that PHI we maintain about you is incomplete or incorrect, you may ask us to amend it. To request an amendment, you must give us a written request that includes the reason for your request and any supporting documents, if applicable. We will give all requests careful consideration, but in certain cases, we may deny your request for amendment. If we make the amendment you request, we also may notify those who work with us and have copies of the uncorrected record, if we believe such notification is necessary. If we deny your request, we will notify you of the denial in writing and will explain the basis for our denial. You have the right to file a statement of disagreement with us and we have the right to rebut that statement.

Receive an accounting of disclosures of PHI. You have the right to receive an accounting of the disclosures we make of your PHI after April 14, 2003, for most purposes other than treatment, payment or health care operations or disclosures that you or your personal representative authorized. The right to receive an accounting is subject to certain exceptions, restrictions and limitations. To request an accounting, you must submit a written request specifying the time period. The time period may not be longer than six years and may not include dates before April 14, 2003.

Minors. If you are a minor who has lawfully provided consent for treatment and you wish for us to treat you as an adult for purposes of access to and disclosure of records related to such treatment, please notify one of the staff members or the Privacy Officer.

Complaints

If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you can file a complaint with us by calling us or by sending your written complaint to our Privacy Officer at the address given below. You may also file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services – Office for Civil Rights. We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint.
